CIVICS: A MULTI- ARTS APPROACH TO ENGAGED CITIZENSHIP

Participation and communication are key to an active, informed and heartfelt citizenship. Visual art-making, expressive theatre games like role plays and interviews prompt student expression and understanding of what it means to contribute to community in a creative, responsible way.

The program approaches 4-8th grade civics curriculum topics like the branches of government, voting, and balance of power, to encourage respectful civil conversation and expression. Students explore key themes like freedom, rules, beliefs, and fairness, through movement, painting, visualization, and pair shares about the rights and duties of citizenship.
