Karen De Mauro and The Acting Center are committed to continue providing high-quality programs in a safe environment during this global health crisis. Given the state of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, programs will transition to a virtual platform until further notice. All programs will have a live option and semi-live option with pre-recorded supplementary materials. Facilities with significantly low transmission rates may be eligible for in-person programs.

From The United Nations to the stages of Japan, from National Parks to hundreds of schools, festivals and community centers across the US, Karen delights audiences with myths of ancient lands, contemporary urban tales., and personal stories. Richly told with warmth and wit, her compelling storytelling style engages audiences of all ages. With over 50 years of experience on stage, film, television, radio, print, web, and recordings, De Mauro knows how to entertain the outer world and activate the inner one.
